I will work closely with our elected officials here in New Hampshire to ensure that the New Hampshire Advantage — our unique combination of low taxes, limited government, and individual liberty — is not only protected but strengthened for future generations. Our state has long been a model of fiscal responsibility and entrepreneurial spirit, and I believe strongly in preserving the conditions that allow our small businesses, families, and communities to thrive.

I will firmly oppose any federal efforts that threaten to undermine our economic competitiveness by imposing one-size-fits-all regulations that don't reflect the values or realities of our state. New Hampshire's industries — from advanced manufacturing and software development to agriculture, tourism, and beyond — have earned their success through innovation, resilience, and smart policy. I will not support Washington mandates that create unnecessary burdens or jeopardize the jobs and growth we've worked hard to achieve.

Likewise, I will resist any federal attempts to erode the rights and freedoms we hold dear. Whether it's the right to run a business without government interference, the right to bear arms, or the freedom to raise our families in accordance with our values, I will stand firm in defense of our way of life. New Hampshire citizens are independent, capable, and deeply proud of our traditions — and I will make sure that those traditions are respected, not rewritten, by those in Washington.
